DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors. Note the liberal use of the term "and for" which is frequently utilized inappropriately and vaguely, since the subject of the phrase is frequently vague.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Funai et al (6,029,638). Note in Figure 11 an oil tank 59, a first breather chamber 18a, a second breather chamber 61h, a first pump 65, and a second pump 64.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Funai et al (6,029,638). Funai et al show everything except they are silent as to the pumping capacity of the first and second pumps. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to provide a second oil pump with a larger pumping power than the first pump, in order to produce a vacuum pressure in the crankcase, as it is conventionally necessary to provide a vacuum pressure in the crankcase in order to for the engine to function properly and would have been well within the purview of one of ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
